Report of Library Trustees

North Hampton, N. H., Feb. 9, 1922.

During the past year we have purchased 50 new books, of which 34 were fiction. The library now contains about 2610 volumes, of which about 1,460 are fiction. The reading room has been provided with the same magazines as last year. We have installed two new bookstands and rearranged the electric lighting. This change will provide us with additional shelfroom, sufficient for several years.

Additional grading should be done in front of the building, and suitable shrubbery would be a decided improvement. We recommend that a portion of our appropriation be used for this purpose.

We have arranged to erect in front of the library a stone on which may be placed our two soldier's tablets with room for two others which are to bear names of men from North Hampton who served in the Revolution and the French wars.

The library expenses for the past year are given below:—

Salary of Librarian.....	$100.00
New books.....	90.83
Magazines	8.00
Fuel	72.75
Lighting	17.16
Repairs	1.13
Bookstacks and additional lights....	106.00
Miscellaneous	10.80

$406.67

We estimate the expenses for the coming year as follows:

Salary of Librarian.....	$100.00
Fuel and lighting.....	55.00
New Books.....	125.00
Magazines	15.00
Improvements and miscellaneous ex- penses	105.00

$400.00

We therefore recommend that the above sum of $400.00 be raised for library purposes.

School Report

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
To the North Hampton School Board:

I am pleased to submit my fourth annual report as superintendent of schools. I also transmit to you the reports of your Supervisor of Music and School Physician, and the tabulation of the customary School Statistics.

WORK OF THE YEAR

A careful diagnosis of the scores made in the Standard Tests, which were given in the fundamental subjects last spring seem to show improvement in Reading, however, the rate of reading was much too slow. Low scores were made in Writing, particularly in middle and upper grades last year, which was not true the year before. I know our teachers tried for the remainder of last year and are trying very hard this year to improve our standing, particularly in these subjects, and I am hopeful of much better results in this year's tests. High scores were made in Spelling in all grades and considerable improvement was made in Composition in some grades. Good, to high scores were made in almost all grades in the four fundamentals of arithmetic.

ATTENDANCE

The per cent of attendance, 93.4 last year was the best it has been for the past four years. The number of cases of tardiness last year was 168 or 112 less than during the previous year. This is a very creditable improvement, yet there ought not to be more than one half as many tardinesses. I like to believe that both this improvement in attendance and tardiness, is an indication of a more serious purpose on the part of the pupils themselves, as well as due to the hearty co-operation of the parents with the teachers.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The upper grades of American Grammar schools, and the first one or two years of the high school are fast becoming reorganized into Junior High schools. In New Hampshire the Junior High School consists of grades 7, 8, 9 and 10, and the Senior High of grades 11 and 12. It has been found possible to rearrange the work which had formerly required eight years and in some places still requires nine years, so that certain subjects reserved for the High School could be introduced in these upper grades. Statistics show that wherever Junior High schools have been adopted, an increasing number of pupils continue their work in the Senior High School.

The pupils who left high school during the first year got no science or practical mathematics, and very little, if any, modern language or practical arts training. The customary offering was Ancient History, Algebra and a foreign language, which, however, usually was a dead one. When we consider this abrupt change from the methods they had been accustomed to in the elementary schools, it is strange that more did not fall by the wayside.

In the Junior High School an effort is made to give the pupils what is of interest and of real value to children at their age. Elementary Science is the science of common every day life and tends to arouse the pupil's interest to keep on and later study Physics and Chemistry in the high school. The French is largely conversational and the Domestic Science and Manual Training are wholly practical. The Geometry is merely constructional, not involving logic to any extent. The pupil comes in contact with more than one teacher, yet the "home-room" teacher has the pupil in more than one subject. Thus we have an easy and natural transition from the one teacher school to the common high school.

By having tried these various subjects, previously only in high schools, the pupil can make a wiser choice of his high school course. His teachers also are in a much better position to advise him and his parents in this matter. Besides, if he cannot attend high school, his experience in the Junior school has given him a broader education than he would have obtained by the old plan. These are only a few of the many advantages of the Junior High School.

We have a very difficult problem in North Hampton to solve, since some of our pupils wish to enter Newburyport High, where they have not Junior High work, but still have nine grades of strictly elementary school work before beginning High school subjects; while others wish to enter Hampton Academy, Robinson Seminary or the Exeter High School. To enter any of the latter schools without loss, pupils must have had two years work in High school subjects, which are given in grades 7 and 8 of the Junior High School. We are trying to solve this problem this year, by having dropped the practical Arts subjects entirely, devoting less time to the strictly high school subjects, but giving more time to the review and drill of the elementary school subjects. The question now is, whether in trying to fit our pupils for both the old and new type of High School, by spreading our teaching over so many subjects in grades 7 and 8, shall we not fail to fit thoroughly for either. We sincerely hope this will not prove true, yet it seems to me to be a possibility. I am sure the School Board as well as your superintendent and teachers, are very desirous of giving just that training in grades 7 and 8 that individual pupils and parents desire, in order that the pupils may enter any one of the above secondary schools, without loss. The Junior High School is the one school in North Hampton that belongs to the whole community, and where, more than in any other matter the chief interests of the whole community should center. With strong support on the part of all citizens it will be a school of which we may all be justly proud.

HEALTH SUPERVISION

A study of the report of the school physician does not show the excellent results from the physical examination it ought to, since out of a total number of 224 defects found the previous year, only 6 cases were treated. The most frequent defect found, again proves to be defective teeth, showing the great need of a dental clinic for North Hampton children. The results of the health supervision, I believe, show the urgent need of a school or community nurse for the very important "follow up work," in getting more pupils treated, thereby making them better mentally as well as more physically fit for their school and life work.

In closing, I wish to express my appreciation of your counsel and cordial support, and of the cooperation of the parents and teachers in making the school work a success.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. WALKER.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. C. H. Walker,
Supt. of Schools,
North Hampton, N. H.

Dear Sir:—

I submit the following report of the work in music during the school year 1921-1922.

In general the outline as given in our State outline has been followed, with addition where it has seemed advantageous.

A brief outline of the grade work is as follows: In the first grade the children have been learning rote songs. The selections have been such that the little people's interest has been instantly aroused, thereby encouraging their efforts. In the early grades all the children love their music and try hard to sing their songs correctly. We have been delighted to see some of our worst cases in monotones sing in tune, and we hope by continuing individual work, that all will carry tune properly before the end of the school year. Very simple notation is also introduced during the first year.

During the second year rote songs are continued as well as simple staff reading. Simple problems in time are introduced, all work being carried on through the song itself that the child's interest may not lag.

In the third and fourth grades more attention is given the time and tune problems and rote songs, although still taught occasionally are in the back ground. As the year progresses two part music is introduced.

In grades five and six two and three part songs are taught. Technical points are taught in preparation for chorus work. Interpretation is given a large share of time.

In Junior High the time is given almost wholly to chorus work. We have been greatly aided by the use of the piano during the past two months. Our numbers have been few and the use of the instrument has given the pupils courage and confidence.

I wish to thank the teachers at this time for their kindly co-operation and also the parents for their goodwill and friendly appreciation.

Very respectfully,
ESTHER B. COOMBS,
Supervisor of Music.
